January 2007

Booz Allen Hamilton (Australia) is proud to be appointed as external consultants to Singapore's Land Transport Authority (LTA) for its review of the Public Transport Industry Structure.

The review of the industry structure and regulatory framework for mass public transport, both bus and rail, has the goal of ensuring the public transport system can support Singapore's continued population and economic growth.

Booz Allen's appointment reflects LTA's desire to bring a fresh perspective to the industry review including understanding of global best practice. Booz Allen's transportation professionals have extensive first-hand knowledge of the industries, markets, technologies, and best practices influencing critical decisions in all modes of transportation. This depth of technical knowledge is coupled with an appreciation for and understanding of the complex environment and market dynamics in which transport agencies operate, enabling us to provide considered advice to LTA.

Booz Allen is excited by the opportunity to work with the LTA on this important initiative.
